• Required Tech For This Course:

1. Access to CANVAS is required for this course Access to Canvas in class to complete all Lecture Quizzes, Reading Quizzes, Examinations & General Assignments

2. Access to Zoom (including a camera enabled device) is required for this course to attend my online office hours (Note: Camera Must Be On To Attend My Online Office Hours)
3. You must be able to view PDF documents. Some course material will be distributed in this format. Some course content may be distributed in audio or video form, but audio/visual content will be supplemental in nature. You can download Adobe Acrobat free of charge at <http://get.adobe.com/reader>. Mac users can use Preview, which is installed on all Macs.
4. You must have a working computer and have stable access to the internet.

• Course Learning Objectives for Phil 103:

Students will be able to:

- 1) To understand and evaluate the moral issues raised by current and projected future business practices and current and projected future technology.
- 2) To understand some of the major moral theories as they pertain to these issues.
- 3) To develop the ability to apply moral concepts to attempt to resolve these issues, and to recognize the relationship between morality and social consequences.
- 4) To improve the capacity to use moral concepts to reason regarding concrete situations and cases involving the diversity of race, class, gender, and other aspects of human society.

• Area D Learning Outcomes – The Individual and Society:

Students will be able to:

1. Describe and evaluate ethical and social values in their historical and cultural contexts.
2. Explain and apply the principles and methods of academic disciplines to the study of social and individual behavior.
3. Demonstrate an understanding of the role of human diversity in human society, for example, race, ethnicity, class, age, ability/disability, sexual identity, gender and gender expression.
4. Explain and critically examine social dynamics and issues in their historical and cultural contexts.

<https://www.csus.edu/undergraduate-studies/general-education/ge-learning-outcomes.html>

These learning objectives will be met through a variety of practical assessments including quizzes, group work, essay writing, and verbal communication (class/group participation).

Student Standards of Conduct:

• Plagiarism and/or cheating will not be tolerated in this class. All those who engage in these activities will receive a “0” on the associated assignment. In addition, all incidents of cheating and/or plagiarism will be reported to the department chair and to the Judicial Officer in the Office of Student Affairs. It is your responsibility to both know and adhere to Sac State’s Academic Honesty Policy. This policy can be found at the following address:

- <https://www.csus.edu/student-affairs/student-conduct/academic-dishonesty.html>
- <https://www.csus.edu/indiv/n/norrisa/stat50/academichonesty.pdf>
- (Specific to Computer Science and Business Majors)
https://www.csus.edu/college/engineering-computer-science/computer-engineering/ internal/ documents/academic-integrity-form.pdf

Please Take Note: Plagiarism at Sacramento State includes but is not limited to:

1. The act of incorporating into one’s own work the ideas, words, sentences, paragraphs, or parts thereof, or the specific substance of another’s work without giving appropriate credit thereby representing the product as entirely one’s own. Examples include not only word-for-word copying, but also the "mosaic" (i.e., interspersing a few of one’s own words while, in essence, copying another’s work), the paraphrase (i.e., rewriting another’s work while still using the other’s fundamental idea or theory); fabrication (i.e., inventing or counterfeiting sources), ghost-writing (i.e., submitting another’s work as one’s own) and failure to include quotation marks on material that is otherwise acknowledged; and
2. Representing as one’s own another’s artistic or scholarly works such as musical compositions, computer programs, photographs, paintings, drawing, sculptures, or similar works.

In general, the Philosophy Department does not recommend that you cite or quote any AI source in assignments, even if you were to give appropriate credit and citation.

In addition to using TurnItIn, this course may use rapidly evolving technology to help detect when student writing has been assisted by AI technology (like Chat GPT). Improper use of AI technology can be grounds for a charge of plagiarism or other academic misconduct, leading to academic penalties (like failing a course) and administrative penalties (like expulsion from the university), regardless of when the academic misconduct is discovered. It is likely that, in the arms race that is digital technology, what seems like today's detection-proof AI writing tool will be easy to detect by tomorrow, or next week, or next month.

Students should conduct themselves with respect for others and perform their work with intellectual integrity and honesty, which includes completing their own work and giving proper attribution to sources. Each instance of academic dishonesty (e.g., plagiarism, cheating on a quiz, passing off another's work as one's own, an unauthorized use of technology, etc.) will result in a grade of 0 (not just a failing grade) for that assignment and referral to the Office of Student Conduct for disciplinary procedures consistent with the Academic Honesty Policy articulated in the University Policy Manual (<https://www.csus.edu/umannual/student/stu-100.htm>).

If you wish for more assistance/advice on the issue of plagiarism, please see the following CSUS library link <http://csus.libguides.com/home> (information on citing and researching)

In addition, all students are expected to follow the CSU, Sacramento Hornet Honor Code: <https://www.csus.edu/student-affairs/internal/documents/hornet-honor-code.pdf>

- In-Class Participation: Purposely “obstructing” the viewpoint of another student in the classroom during classroom discussions is prohibited. This class will involve many discussions concerning the material assigned for homework and the material presented during the classroom lectures. This being a philosophy course, many of these discussions may challenge certain beliefs that you hold. Open dialog and proper methods of argumentation (which will be discussed) are not only expected but required for this class.

- Attendance/Participation: Students are expected to (1) attend each class session and (2) complete all the necessary readings before each class. Students will be allowed no more than 3 unexcused absences during the term. Each additional unexcused absence over and above 3 will result in a grade penalty at the end of the term. The penalty will be as follows: 1/2 final grade penalty for each unexcused absence over and above the 3 allowed absences. If you know that you will miss class and have a valid reason (note that a doctor's note, jury duty summons, or other formal documentation will be required) be sure to contact me before the class that you will miss. Having a family obligation or a sporting obligation or the fact that you may need a personal day (I get it) do not count as excused absences. Attendance will be taken each class session.

- Email Correspondence: Monday through Friday I check my Sac State and Gmail accounts at least once per day (usually in the evening). If I do not respond to an email that you have sent within one business day, please feel free to resend the email. In order to ensure a prompt reply, all emails that you send must be formatted according to the following link:

<https://www.csus.edu/college/arts-letters/philosophy/internal/g6-how-to-correspond-with-your-professor.pdf>

NOTE: All emails not formatted according to the above link will be answered last each day & may or may not be answered at all. All emails MUST begin with your name AND the class that you are enrolled in.

Here are some additional notes concerning Email Correspondence:

(A) ANY and ALL emails must include (each time you send an email) each of the following:

- 1) Your name
- 2) Your class
- 3) Your issue, the problem, or the question in a succinct claim/statement.

(B) Please be specific, brief, and direct in all communication. Brevity is a good thing! Also note, if a response requires more than a few sentences, you may be asked to attend one of my office hours.

(C) Some Additional E-mail Etiquette Notes. When writing an e-mail to the instructor or fellow students, please follow these rules of basic courtesy:

- Always include a subject line that relates to the question or concern that you have.
- Always include a salutation, such as: “Dear group members,” “Greetings, fellow course participants,” “Hello, Instructor,” etc.
- Some salutations are impolite and inappropriate. For example, opening an e-mail to the instructor with “Hey Carboni,” “You there!” or “Sup Professor,” is rude. Remember that our online course is a professional environment. Think of it as training grounds for relationships with your future employer. You wouldn’t greet your future employer in an e-mail with the phrase “Yo, dawg!”, would you? It’s not appropriate in this class either.
- Always sign your e-mail, for instance with closing phrases such as “Thanks,” “Best wishes,” “Sincerely,” “Kind regards,” etc.
- To minimize chances of being misunderstood, write in full sentences and avoid colloquialisms or language you would use when texting a friend or participating in an online chat.
- Read over your e-mail draft or use spellcheck before sending it off. Also, check to make sure that you have actually attached the file you meant to send.
- Since errors in e-mail usage do occur (e.g., you accidentally send an e-mail intended for one specific person to a whole group of people), never send anything confidential, personal, or in some way controversial in an e-mail if you are not prepared to accept the consequences of the message reaching people other than the intended addressee.
- In line with this last concern, I will neither divulge, nor discuss any student’s grade through email. Quite frankly, I do not know who (roommates, family, friends, ex-friends, etc.) is actually on the other side of the email conversation and, therefore, while I am willing to gesture at your grades, I will not provide any actual numbers (percentages, points, etc.) through email. All specific questions about grades must be asked during my office hours.

• Disability Accommodations: Sacramento State is committed to ensuring an accessible learning environment where course or instructional content are usable by all students and faculty. If you believe that you require disability-related academic adjustments for this class, please immediately contact Services for Students with Disabilities (SSWD Lassen Hall 1008, 916-278-6955) to discuss eligibility. A current accommodation letter from SSWD is required before any modifications, above and beyond what is otherwise available for all other students in this class will be provided. In addition, feel free to discuss your specific needs with me if you wish. Further information about the SSWD office can be found at the following link:

<https://www.csus.edu/student-affairs/centers-programs/services-students-disabilities/>

• Special Note: The University requires faculty and staff to report any personal disclosures of sexual misconduct including sexual assault, dating/domestic violence and stalking to the Title IX Coordinator. Students who do not wish to report their experience to me or the Title IX Coordinator may speak to someone confidentially by contacting Student Health and Counseling Services at the following:
<https://www.csus.edu/student-life/health-counseling/>

In addition, all instructors employed by CSU, Sacramento are ‘mandatory reporters’ of suspected child abuse or neglect according to the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act. As such, I am bound to the requirements established by CSU Executive Order 1083 which can be found at the following link:
<https://calstate.policystat.com/policy/10927154/latest/>

• Basic Needs Support: Your physical and mental health are important to your success as a college student. Student Health and Counseling Services (SHCS) in The WELL offers medical, counseling, and wellness services to help you get and stay healthy during your time at Sac State. SHCS offers: Primary Care medical services, including sexual and reproductive healthcare, transgender care, and immunizations; urgent care for acute illness, injuries, and urgent counseling needs; pharmacy for prescriptions and over-the-counter products; mental health counseling, including individual sessions, group counseling, support groups, mindfulness training, and peer counseling; athletic training for sports injury rehabilitation; wellness services, including nutrition counseling, peer led health education and wellness workshops, and free safer sex supplies; violence and sexual assault support services. Most services are covered by the Health Services fee and available at no additional cost.

If you are experiencing challenges with food, housing, financial or other unique circumstances that are impacting your education, help is just a phone call or email away! The CARES office provides case management support for any enrolled student. Email the CARES office at cares@csus.edu to speak with a case manager about the resources available to you. Check out the CARES website:
<https://www.csus.edu/student-affairs/crisis-assistance-resource-education-support/>

• Student Health & Counseling Services

- 1) Due to the current and ongoing events faced by many at this time, the University recognizes that many of you may be in need of support. Please be aware that Health and Counseling Services staff are available for virtual and in-person services

- Cell Phones and Computers: Please set your phone to vibrate before class. Cell phones are not to be used in class for any reason. If you must take a call (which I discourage unless an emergency) please step outside before you answer. No texting or general internet use will be allowed in class. Computers are allowed to be used in class; however, (1) Be prepared to have one of your fellow classmates state what you are using your computer for if asked by me and (2) NO digital devices will be allowed to be used during exams or quizzes.

- General Instructor Note: “If a faculty member is not available during the semester, students will be contacted and advised how the course will proceed. This may include a change in instructor or modality.”

Evaluation/Homework Assignments:

- General note about assignments in this course: It is your responsibility as a student in this course to keep up with all assignments. Do not count on Canvas telling you or reminding you that something is due. You must read the weekly breakdown (below) and be aware of each assignment. While I may send out announcements/reminders about larger assignments, I will not do so on a regular basis. Read the Weekly Breakdown and complete all required assignments.

- In-Class Assignments: There will be a number of randomly assigned, short in-class assignments throughout the term. These assignments will be worth a total of no more than 5 points each (you will be informed of the specific point value when each assignment is given). At the end of the term, a total of 50 points will be possible. There are no make-ups on missed in-class work. If you miss an assignment that means that you have missed class and, as a result, you miss an assignment.

- Discussion Posts: Each week, unless otherwise noted in the weekly schedule, you will be required to complete a short discussion post assignment. These assignments will become available each Friday by 11:59 PM and will be due by 11:59 PM on the following Saturday (8 days later). All assignment dates are listed in the Weekly Schedule below. This assignment will be broken up into two parts:

- (1) The first will be to answer a question that I ask in the assignment link. Your answers to these questions should be one or two sentences.
- (2) The second will be to respond to the answer given by one of your fellow classmates.

Note: Your answers and your responses should be written keeping in mind that others will be reading them – meaning – keep them clean and fair! This is not a Redditt Post! Be nice to one another. I will be reviewing each of your posts as well throughout the semester – but note, I will not necessarily comment on each individual post myself.

These will be graded as a complete/incomplete and can be answered in 1 or 2 complete sentences. Each Discussion Post assignment will be worth 5 total points.

• Quizzes: As outlined on the weekly course breakdown below, there will be two types of quizzes in this class.

- (1) Reading Quizzes: Prior to each new section lecture/new topic, there will be a quiz to be completed prior to the lecture on that reading/subject (see weekly breakdown below for details). These quizzes must be completed in CANVAS. No make-ups will be given for missing a quiz – so do not ask! It is your responsibility to know and follow the schedule. It can be confusing at first, so if you have any questions, do not hesitate to ask. These quizzes will be multiple choice and/or true and false. Each quiz will be worth 10 points. Once you begin a quiz, you will have 20 minutes to complete it. You will see one question at a time and WILL NOT be able to go back and change your answer.
 - a. Reading quizzes will be due on the date listed in the course syllabus BEFORE class begins.

- (2) Lecture Quizzes: As listed in the weekly course breakdown below, there will be a number of Lecture Quizzes in this class. The date and content of each quiz is listed in the weekly breakdown. These quizzes must be completed in CANVAS and must be completed within a two week period once posted. No make-ups will be given for missing a lecture quiz – so do not ask! It is your responsibility to know and follow the schedule. It can be confusing at first, so if you have any questions, do not hesitate to ask. These quizzes will be multiple choice and/or true and false. Each quiz will be worth 10 points. Once you begin a quiz, you will have 20 minutes to complete it. You will see one question at a time and WILL NOT be able to go back and change your answer.

Please Note: There will be no make-up quizzes if you miss a quiz (either type). To do well on these quizzes and thus to do well in the class, you should make sure to complete the assigned readings and to complete all lecture materials. If you are confused in any way about the detailed quiz schedule, it is your responsibility to come and speak to me during my office hours.

Also Note: If you have any issues during a reading quiz (like, for example, a system freeze) please email me about the issue. All other quiz related questions should be addressed during my office hours.

Writing Assignments:

There will be one major writing assignment in this class. The assignment will be broken up into 4 different “parts.” Due dates for each part are listed below. Details for this assignment, including the specific content of each part as well as a grading rubric, will be posted to CANVAS/Modules/Essay Assignments on 1/26. As with all other assignments in this class, you are expected to follow the Hornet Honor Code and the University Policies concerning Academic Honesty. Any component of this assignment that is found to violate the University Honesty Policy and or the Plagiarism/Cheating Policy listed above will receive a “0” on the assignment and you will be referred to the Judicial Officer in the Office of Student Affairs.

Please see the standards of conduct section above for more information regarding what I expect/require for all essay assignments/components. Feel free to speak to me if you have any questions regarding these expectations or assignments. You will be required to submit parts 3 and 4 to the most current version of TurnItIn (this is automatic in CANVAS) and receive (1) no more than a 20% score which (1) accounts for any quotations/bibliographic materials and (2) an appropriate AI composition score. Lastly, I will be submitting all completed assignments through one if not more additional checks to verify authenticity at my discretion.
